

BOOK PICKS - FOURTH GRADE

Not sure what to buy at the book fair? Check out these new releases from Ms. Storrie and old favorites from our classroom teachers.

The Best Man The newest book from Newbery Medalist Richard Peck starts and ends with a wedding. In between, Archer learns a lot about the man he wants to be.	Wish Charlie must live with an aunt and uncle in rural North Carolina. Angry and lonely, she learns what you need is not always what you wish for.	The Ethan I Was Before Ethan was many things before he lost his best friend Kacey and moved to a small town in Georgia. Will he find his way back?	Hilo: The Great Big Boom Hilo may look like a normal kid, but he is definitely NOT. Will he and DJ be able to save Gina and make it back to Earth in time?	Mighty Jack Jack's sister never speaks, so when she tells him to trade their mom's car for a box of seeds, he does. Enter biting pumpkins, baby onions on the run, and even a dragon.	Whoosh! Lonnie Johnson's Super Soaking Stream of Inventions Lonnie Johnson was a NASA engineer who accidentally invented the iconic toy.	The Octopus Scientists An octet of octo facts is just the beginning in learning about these intelligent, mysterious creatures.
Mrs. Beyer 	Mrs. Heilwagen 	Mrs. Jorgenson 	Mrs. Kirsch 	Ms. Robison 	Ms. Rosellini 	Mr. Wainer
Poetry for Young People: Maya Angelou Twenty-five poems by acclaimed writer and activist Maya Angelou accompanied by beautiful illustrations.	The Last of the Really Great Whangdoodles Will the professor be able to help Lindy, Tom, and Ben safely reach the Whangdoodle's castle?	The Misadventures of the Family Fletcher Four brothers, two dads, a crazy dog, and a grouchy neighbor come together in this beautiful family story.	Sylvia and Aki Based on the true story of two California girls facing injustices during World War II.	A Whole New Ballgame Rip and Red's new teacher, Mr. Acevedo, is a bit unusual. But maybe he'll be able to teach them about real teamwork.	Frindle Nick is trying to annoy his teacher by calling a pen a "frindle." Then it catches on across the country.	The End of the Beginning In this modern fable, Avon the snail needs an adventure, so he sets off with his new friend, Edward the ant.